KUALALUMPUR: With the launch of a RM4 billion river cleaning up and beautification project, Prime Minister Datuk Seri Najib Razak, Deputy Prime Minister Datuk Seri Anwar Ibrahim and Kuala Lumpur Mayor Datuk Seri S. Subramaniam will inaugurate the project on the great river in the city.

However, he said the project is aimed at giving physical development but a priority to the people's thinking and attitude, especially towards rivers.

The RM4 billion project along the river through the city is an urban renewal project aimed at transforming the river into a vibrant and beautiful waterway with high standards.

Initiated as an Urban Policy Project under the Greater Kuala Lumpur Living Valley (GKLVL) project, the RM4 billion project aims to transform the river into a vibrant and beautiful waterway with high standards, he said, when launching the River of Life project.

Since then, he said, the project has been cleaned up and the river is now a vibrant and beautiful waterway with high standards, he said, when launching the River of Life project.

The RM4 billion project is a comprehensive project, which is the cleaning up, beautification and river development along the river corridor. The project will be completed along a 12.5km stretch throughout the Klang river basin.
